

James Roth

James Roth President and CEO (Retired) GRC Corporation

Mr. Roth is a retired corporate executive with 45 years of experience in the aerospace, defense and several related high technology sectors. He currently serves as a director and a member of the compensation committee of Titan Corporation (a provider of systems solutions and services to the U.S. Department of Defense, intelligence agencies and other government clients) EDO Corporation (NYSE: EDO) (an engineered defense products company) and Digimarc, a digital watermarking and secure identification company. Past directorships include membership on the Board of Directors of Sure Beam Corporation.

Mr. Roth retired in 1998 as President and CEO of GRC International Inc., positions that he held since 1992, and where he also served as chairman of the Board of Directors of the corporation in 1997. GRC International Inc., formerly a publicly traded (NYSE) professional services company serving an array of government and private-sector clients with the majority of its revenues derived from the military, space and classified communities, was acquired by AT&T subsequent to Mr. Roth's retirement.

Mr. Roth joined GRC International Inc. (then General Research Corporation) in 1974 as the director of Los Angeles operations. Prior to his retirement, Mr. Roth also served on the President's Council of Competitiveness, as director of the Northern VA Technology Council and the Professional Services Council and as an advisor for the Engineering College at the University of California at Santa Barbara. Mr. Roth received a B.S. in electrical engineering from the University of Toledo and an M.S. in electrical engineering from the University of Akron.

In 2005 Mr. Roth was recognized as a Distinguished Alumnus of the University of Toledo, College of Engineering.
